| 29. Code of Ethics GCC Page 98 | 29.1 The Procuring Agencies and the Consultant are bound to follow the Code of Ethics issued by the Authority. | Core Principles from PPRA for Consultants 1. Integrity and Honesty Consultants must act with integrity, avoiding misrepresentation, conflict of interest, and unethical practices. Rule 2(h) and 2(j) define conflict of interest and corrupt practices, which consultants must avoid. 2. Fairness and Transparency Maintain fair competition without collusion, bid-rigging, or unfair advantage. Consultants should not engage in bribery or any form of inducement. 3. Confidentiality Consultants must keep proprietary information of the procuring agency confidential. Sharing confidential information with other bidders or third parties is prohibited. 4. Compliance with Laws All consultancy services must strictly follow the PPRA Rules, 2004, relevant regulations, and applicable Pakistani laws. 5. Avoidance of Conflict of Interest Consultants must disclose any potential or existing conflicts of interest before bidding or during contract execution. Consultants should recuse themselves if impartiality cannot be guaranteed. 6. Professional Competence |

| | | Consultants must ensure only qualified professionals are deployed for the assignment and adhere to the agreed Terms of Reference (TOR). 7. Accountability Consultants must provide true and accurate reports and documents. Any misrepresentation can result in blacklisting under Rule 19 of PPRA Rules, 2004. 8. Prohibition of Fraud and Corruption PPRA's Standard Bidding Documents and Rules prohibit fraudulent, coercive, collusive, or obstructive practices. 9. Responsibility to Report Unethical Behavior Consultants should report any unethical conduct they encounter in the procurement process.  Relevant PPRA References PPRA Rules, 2004: Rule 2 definitions on Corrupt and Fraudulent Practices. Rule 19 on Blacklisting of Suppliers and Contractors for unethical conduct. Rule 4 emphasizes Integrity and Transparency in public procurement. Standard Request for Proposals (RFP) Documents: Contain clauses on conflict of interest, corrupt practices, and obligations of consultants to maintain ethical standards. PPRA Guidelines: PPRA's guidance documents on consultant selection outline professional standards and expected ethical behavior. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Key Takeaway: While there is no single "Code of Ethics" document exclusive to consultants, the PPRA Rules, 2004 and PPRA's standard procurement documents establish clear ethical requirements that consultants must follow. These rules aim to ensure procurement is conducted with integrity, transparency, and accountability. |
